Editorial

Percipi

Department of Philosophy
Central European University
Nádor u. 9
H-1051 Budapest
http://www.personal.ceu.hu/percipi

1. About the journal

1.1. Aim and mission

Percipi is an online, free access, peer-reviewed graduate journal of philosophy. It is edited by graduate students at the Department of Philosophy of Central European University. The aim of the journal is to publish work of high quality by young scholars in the field. It is intended to foster the spirit of open and free inquiry, to promote the standards of academic rigor and to provide a forum for the communication of ideas within the international postgraduate community. Percipi welcomes articles in any area of philosophy, in an analytical style, most broadly construed. The language of the journal is English.

1.2. Editorial team

Please contact any of the editors for further information and paper submission.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Milosz Pawlowski | ✉ | FPHPAM01@phd.ceu.hu |
| | | milosz.pawlowski@gmail.com |
| Horia Târnovanu | ✉ | FPHTAH01@phd.ceu.hu |
| Iulian Vamanu | ✉ | FPHVAI01@phd.ceu.hu |
| | | vamanu@gmail.com |
| Ştefan Ionescu | ✉ | ionescu_stefan@phd.ceu.hu |
| | | steionescu@gmail.com |

1.3. Advisory board

Gábor Betegh (Central European University, Budapest)
István Bodnár (Central European University, Budapest)
Tim Crane (University College, London)
Radu Dudău (University of Bucharest)
Katalin Farkas (Central European University, Budapest)
János Kis (Central European University, Budapest and New York University)
Howard Robinson (Central European University, Budapest)
Zbigniew Szawarski (Warsaw University)
Jennifer Whiting (Toronto University)

2. Instructions for authors

2.1. General conditions

Percipi accepts original papers (research articles, discussion pieces, reviews) in any area of philosophy. The language of the journal is English. Articles should generally be less than 8000 words, discussion notes and reviews less than 3000 words. To keep production costs down, all of the work is conducted electronically.

2.2. Submission-Review process

Percipi is a peer-reviewed journal. All contributions shall be reviewed by graduate students from the Department of Philosophy (CEU), with the support of the Advisory Board.

The authors are instructed to submit their contributions to one of the editors by email. The papers should be prepared for blind-reviewing by removing all elements by which the author may be identified. Be aware of the fact that the software you use may automatically insert identification elements, so make sure you eliminate them! (E.g., check under File > Properties in Microsoft Word, or File > Document Properties in Adobe Acrobat.)

Each paper should be accompanied by a cover letter containing:

- Author data: name(s) of the author(s), institution, contact details;

- The title of the paper;

- The abstract (no more than 300 words);

- The name, size, and wordcount of the main paper file.

Every paper will be first read by one of the editors. The editors reserve the right not to pass the paper over to the referees. We expect the reviewing process to be relatively short, so the author receives notice in no more than six weeks. The editors may request that changes be made in a basically accepted text. All papers will be evaluated in terms of the following criteria:

- Clarity of expression;

- Clearly stated thesis;

- Perspicuous argumentative structure;

- Originality;

- Comprehensiveness of the discussion;

- Other (length of the paper, copyright issues).

Each accepted contribution will be published within 3 weeks after acceptance.

2.3. Edition guidelines

During the reviewing process, we are able to handle the most common document formats (Microsoft Word Document, Rich Text Format, Portable Document Format, etc.) The authors are expected to provide a final version formatted either as .doc, .rtf, or .tex file.[1]

Please set the notes at the foot of the page. Please use the Harvard style for quotations, bibliography, and references. Please take note of the following format descriptions.

2.3.1. References in the main text and footnotes

Contemporary authors.  In a footnote:

> surname (year), page(s)
> Parfit (1984), 24

It is sufficient to put only surnames, unless there are more authors of the same surname:

> Armstrong, D. (1989), 20; Armstrong, H. (1992), 62

In the main text, if the surname is not integrated into the text:

> (surname year, page(s))
> (Parfit 1984, 40-42)

---

[1] Should you choose the latter, please use only logical markup, standard LaTeX $2_\varepsilon$ packages and fonts, and include the appropriate BibTeX file as a separate attachment.

Pre-twentieth century authors.    Name, title [full name or abbreviation], book in roman numerals [only Aristotle's Metaphysics in Capital Greek letters], dot, chapter in Arabic numeral, followed either by a space and standard referencing, or by a dot and section in Arabic numerals.

> Aristotle, Metaphysics A.1 982b11
> Aristotle, De an. III.1 425a15-17
> Epicurus, LM 4-5
> Augustine, De Trin. XIV.19.26
> Thomas Aquinas, Summa Theologiae III. q.25, a.6, ad 3
> Descartes, Med. VI AT 7:78

2.3.2. Reference list at the end of the article

A full list of bibliographical entries cited should be supplied at the end of the article. The entries should be alphabetically ordered by author's surname then by date. If there is more then one reference by an author in the same year they are labeled in order of publication with a lower case letter in italics:

> Lowe, E. J. (1989*a*), Kinds of Being, Basil Blackwell, Oxford.
> Lowe, E. J. (1989*b*), 'What is a Criterion of Identity?', Philosophical Quarterly 39, 1–21.

Book citation.    Author's surname, initial of the first name. (year of publication and lower case letter in italics [if needed]), Title of the Book, edition [if not first], publisher's name, place of publication.

> Parfit, D. (1992a), Reasons and Persons, 3rd ed., Clarendon Press, Oxford.

Chapter citation.    Author's surname, initial of the first name. (year of publication and lower case letter in italics [if needed]), 'Title of the chapter', in Editor's initial and surname (ed.)/(eds.) Title of the Book, edition [if not first], publisher's name, place of publication, page numbers of the chapter.

> Hawthorne, J. (2003), 'Identity', in M. J. Loux & D. W. Zimmerman (eds.) The Oxford Handbook of Metaphysics, Oxford University Press, Oxford and New York, 99–130.

Journal article citation.    Author's surname, initial of the first name. (year of publication and lower case letter in italics [if needed]), 'Title of article', Title of the Journal [do not abbreviate!] volume number in Arabic numerals, page numbers of the article.

> Martin, C. B. (1980), 'Substance Substantiated', Australasian Journal of Philosophy 58, 3–10.

Web page citation.    Author/editor's surname, initial of the first name (ed./eds.) [if needed] (last update or copyright date), 'Title of the Page', (Title of the site), Available: URL (Accessed: date).

> de Sousa, R. (2002), 'Twelve Varieties of Subjectivity', (Sousa), Available: http://www.chass.utoronto.ca/%7Esousa/subjectivity.html (Accessed: 19 November 2006).

3. Legal issues

3.1. Privacy statement

The names and contact addresses of the contributors will be used exclusively for the stated purposes of this journal and will not be made available for any other purpose or to any other party.

3.2. Copyright information

1.   The authors of accepted papers give to Percipi the right to publish and distribute their text electronically and to archive it permanently in electronically retrievable form. Percipi retains the copyright for the issue compilation.

2.   The authors retain the copyright of the article. After it has appeared in Percipi the authors may republish their text as long as they acknowledge Percipi as its original publisher with the correct citation details and copyright notice.

3.   Submitting a paper to Percipi the author warrants thereby that the article is original, does not infringe any existing copyright, and does not infringe the rights of any third party. The author also warrants that the paper is not at the same time under consideration by any other journal.

4.   If the paper significantly (more than 10%) overlaps with a previous publication, or if it has been published in a language other than English, the author should inform us of this fact and provide us with copies of these previous publications. Percipi will consider the publication of such contributions on a case-by-case basis.

5.   Citation details and copyright notice to be used for referring to Percipi in case of re-publication should have the following form:

Citation details:   Customary bibliographic citation, including the author's name, article title, journal name, volume number, year, and the URL for the article, e.g., http://www.personal.ceu.hu/percipi/archive/200701/01_editorial.pdf.